WEEKEND GETAWAY FROM VANCOUVER: HARRISON HOT SPRINGS

EPT. 15, 2016 - Looking for an easy weekend getaway from Western Washington? This one will take you out of the country, North of the border!

Harrison Hot Springs Village in British Columbia is an easy three hour drive from Seattle up I-5, through the U.S. Canadian border at Sumas then east on Highway 1 past Abbotsford. There are many signs directing you.

Lodging ranges from quaint rustic bungalows, to camping, to the elegant Harrison Hot Spring resort.

Harrison Lake is a beautiful, large lake with legendary healing hot springs. At the resort, natural mineral water is exported into pools, bringing vacationers a warm, therapeutic experience. The high mineral content of the water is known to bring relief to conditions such as rheumatism and arthritis.
